VOL. IV. RALEIGH, N. C., DECEMBER 2, [illegible] NO. [illegible]

[illegible]

Special Notice.—Remember, in consequence of having large contracts on all papers sent beyond the town for sale, the Progress will hereafter be cash in advance, and those who have been receiving and owing the same will please call and settle up. Dec 2-tf

Yankee Modesty Extraordinary.—The New York Herald says editorially:

The fight commenced by a reconnoissance of the Rappahannock, and ended in a general battle. On account of the preparations of both generals, Lieutenant-Colonel [illegible], of the 17th Regt. [illegible] his resignation to Major-General M. Cook, and commanded MacCook ordered him arrested and sent to his military prison in Irvine. After ten or fifteen days spent in [illegible] Colonel [illegible] was released from [illegible] him, ordering him to join his regiment without delay. Colonel [illegible] again tendered his resignation on the same grounds, when he was placed under arrest, dismissed from the service in disgrace, and his friends, of whom [illegible] from him at the presence of the whole regiment. Gen. Rosecrans orders on the subject were read at the head of the regiments.

The Loss of the Steamer Burnham.—The steamer Burnham, loaded with ammunition and arms, and a large amount of cord clothing and factory supplies for a firm in Columbia, sailed direct from Liverpool. On the 27th September she made New Inlet, North Carolina, and upon entering the harbor was chased and fired upon by the blockaders. She steered for the fort, which fired a shot over her. As the vessel had no colors flying, it was thought to be in the hands of the Yankees, and that the shot was at her. The Captain, on learning that being fairly hailed will prevailed, yielded to the Blockaders. Had our [illegible] chosen its colors, a very important cargo would have been saved. The factory supplies were inestimable.

Savannah will not Surrender.—A correspondent of the Atlanta Confederacy writing from Savannah says:

I find that the citizens of this city have determined to surrender Savannah in ashes, and of such as possible with [illegible] upon anything it is about unanimously have to be surrendered. My New Orleans acquaintance is to be made here. One of the largest property holders in this city told me this morning, that he in common with the other property holders of the city, was determined to sacrifice all he had, rather than leave a single dollar's worth to benefit the Yankees.

A Sale Burnt Entirely.—The following appears in the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel:

Massachusetts, Nov. 26.

A resolution was introduced in the House this morning for the appointment of a committee to proceed to Opelika to negotiate contracts for salt, on the part of the South. Mr. Bingham stated that Lieutenant-Governor had received the most important information by the morning reports of yesterday, and he was sorry to learn that the "breaking down" reported at Opelika extended only to a piece of Louisiana salt dropped from a freight train! The resolution was therefore withdrawn by its wise and thankful hopes of those who credited the "reliable report."

Donations for the Soldiers.—Many persons in the State are ready to contribute what they can spare in clothing, shoes, blankets, &c., for the benefit of the soldiers of North-Carolina, provided they can be made certain that the articles sent will reach their destination. We have taken some pains to ascertain how this can be done, and the following is the result of our inquiries. These arrangements may be relied upon:

1. Governor Vance has ordered the Captain of every militia district in the State to call upon each family in their several districts, to purchase or collect what they may be willing to give to the North-Carolina soldiers, blankets, jeans, linsey, leather, shoes, socks, carpets and clothes ready made, to be delivered by the Colonel of the regiment to the Quartermaster in Raleigh, to be forwarded by him to the proper regiment or company.

2. Besides this, the people of the above Captain's district, if their donations be sufficiently large to justify it, may select a gentleman whom they may prefer to go, on their donations to the regiment or company, and the State will furnish the transportation and pay the necessary expenses of the agent.

3. All articles donated should be carefully put up in packages, bags, linen or barrels, and they should be legibly directed to the soldier or company for whom they are intended, naming the company and regiment, and if post office the brigade.

4. Persons who wish to send articles to any soldier or company, but who do not find it convenient to deliver it as directed in the third [illegible], or to a county Agent, by direction it may be sent as above, may deliver it to the nearest Railroad depot, directed to the care of Captain [illegible] W. Gorrell, Quartermaster at Raleigh, N. C., and it will be promptly forwarded.

5. All articles intended for the sick or wounded soldiers, or for the hospitals, must be carefully directed, and sent to the care of Surgeon General Warren, Raleigh, N. C.
